

Bungee Care

Replace the Bungees Regularly

The sun, salt and water are all natural causes of wear and tear to the bungee cords, reducing their ability to hold your canopy firmly on the structure during high winds and heavy rain. Here are a few things you can do.

- Be sure to keep an eye out on the bungees, their importance in keeping your canopy cover looking new and being effective to defend off the rains and winds cannot be overstated - they are your top priority when it comes to caring for your canopy top.
- Change out the bungees at least every three years... or even sooner if you see them beginning to sag and not hold as tight as they should.
- The bungees are a marine grade heavy duty 11 inch bungees. You can pick them up at numerous retail outlets or on line, but be sure to get high quality bungees, otherwise you will be changing them out much sooner then every three years.
- LightHouse Marine Products & Services carry these heavy duty bungees in stock, and can also can swhap-out the bungees if for some reason you may not be able to get to it of simply for whatever reason do not want to do it yourself.

We'll be glad to do it!
